Award Recognitions

CONGRATULATIONS

Breyana Stilts

Middleburg High School

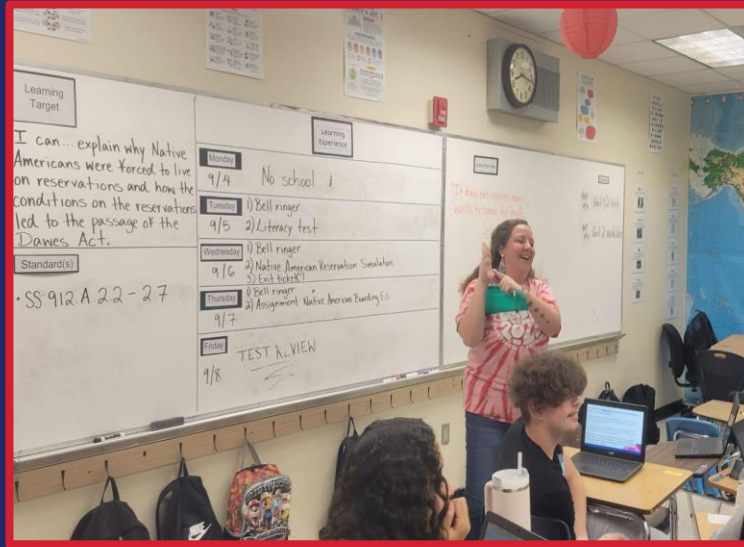

for being selected as the 2023

Florida Council for the Social Studies

Warren Tracy
Beginning Teacher of the Year

“I have watched Ms. Stilts as she interacts with her students and builds meaningful relationships. She builds them up and challenges them but also stops to check in with them to find out where they are academically and how they feel about where they are, all of which leads to top notch teaching.” - A. Martin

“Ms Stilts is a blessing to our students and her teammates in the social studies department. She is a beacon of innovation, enthusiasm, and boundless energy in the classroom. Her dedication to igniting curiosity in her students and provoking thought fosters a passion for social studies in her learners.” - M. Aftuck

“Ms. Stilts is an excellent teacher. Before the school year started she wanted to reach those students that would need extra help to be successful in the classroom, so she implemented a “bootcamp” to provide extra tutoring for all of the US History students at MHS.” - J. McRee

Justin Daniels
Orange Park High School

for receiving the 2023

Florida Council for the Social Studies

Excellence
In Teaching
History Award

"Mr. Daniels is a servant leader and teacher who builds strong relationships with his students. He is driven by seeing his students succeed while gaining confidence and their own individual passion and love of history." - B. Boyer

"Mr. Daniels is an educator who loves his job, and every day, and I mean every day, is a great day to inspire students." - I. Gunder

"Justin is an enthusiastic, creative, and passionate educator, coach, leader and advisor. He makes our school a great place to work and learn." - C. Wingate
